We have a responsibility

As a manufacturer of high quality electronic components, it is our goal to meet our responsibility for the environment and the following generations.

This means that we are not only provide our customers with quality products but to produce them in accordance with the applicable environmental protection guidelines. We demonstrate with our products and their production processes that the environmental protection and most modern technologies does not exclude each other but form a unity, for years.

Our environmental management based on environmental policy ensures, that the environmental impact of our products and processes is the subject of a continuous improvement process. By training and information at the workplace we ensure, that all employees of the company are sensitized for the goals of our environmental policy. The management reviews the compliance with the environmental policy, objectives, legal requirements and the effectiveness of environmental processes and steps periodically to improve the company's environmental performance.

With the recognition of the ZVEI Code of Conduct we are profess publicly to our social responsibility to protect humans, nature and the environment within our business activities.

For us, the ecological responsibility is an integral part of our overall corporate and social responsibility.
